Lighting designer in Lund
September 2016

Lighting designer to the city of Lund, Sweden.

Are you an experienced and visionary lighting designer, interested in participating in our interesting demonstration project?

The municipality of Lund is looking for a lighting designer for an exciting demo project in a school canteen, to create a nice dining environment through the use of innovative lighting design, providing a positive and calm atmosphere and environment in the canteen area, with the specific aim of reducing food waste

Our goal is to find a new working process that helps us create a more pleasant environment for the children's intake of their meals – a completely new way of thinking that can be reused in other reconstructions or new buildings. The canteen environment is often stressful, messy and loud. The municipality is going to refurbish several cantinas in the coming years, and therefore see a direct need to find smart solutions that can contribute to pleasant eating environments and potentially reduced food waste.

If you are interested in the joining our project group as our main light competence and to work out the innovative solutions for this demo please read more in the attached files and sign up for 10-15 minutes of company pitching at our company pitching event on the 5th of October, 2.30 -4.00 pm in Lund.

We look forward to hearing from you.
